Dedicate New Lemon Grove Lutheran Church Next Sunday

Church Started
Here Only
Two Years Ago

REV. W. LEROY ELSTER
Pastor

Lemon Grove Lutheran Church, Alton and Skyline, will be dedicated Sunday with two services with the pastor, Rev. W. Leroy Elster in charge.

Morning worship services will begin at 10:45 a.m. with regular Lutheran ritual. The choir will sing "Behold Our God," Carl Liebig, director; Mrs. Robert Walker, accompanist. Mrs. Larry Kelly will be at the piano for all other music.

The Rev. A. J. Towe will deliver the sermon.

The dedication service starts at 3:30 p.m. There will be greetings from Rev. Towe, Rev. A. Severtson, Rev. P. N. Oklevik.

The Rt. Rev. Gaylard Falde, president of Evangelical Lutheran Churches, will give the sermon and conduct Dedication Etes. The choir will sing "Praise the Lord, O Jerusalem."

Formation of a congregation was started in 1949 by Rev. A. J. Towe, then pastor of Our Savior's Lutheran, of San Diego. Rev. P. N. Oklevik, pastor of College Lutheran, gave part time here until Rev. Ester, of Bottineau, N.D., accepted a call and came here with his family in September, 1949.

Assuming a loan of $35,000, the congregation purchased the land, 205 x 274 feet on Skyline Dr. At a cost of $43,000, a beautiful modern 3 bedroom parsonage, study and garage was completed by September and the first unit of the church ready for use last January. Due to donated labor and material, the property today is valued at a much larger figure.

Palmer Svalstad, contractor, and treasurer of the church, was in charge of building. The beautiful steeple and cross was made by Mr. and Mrs. A. Mueller.

The size of the congregation is increasing daily, the Sunday School has an attendance of about 150. The Ladies Aid is too large to meet in the homes. Rev. and Mrs. Elster and the congregation have taken their place in the spiritual and social life of the community.

The Review joins the people of Lemon Grove in extending congratulations to the Lutherans upon the realization through sacrifice, prayer, faith and hard labor, of their vision of having a place in which to worship their Lord.

San Diego County CFWC Installation

Mrs. Edna Mae Martin, who has served the Oneira Club as its president for two years, will be the incoming President of San Diego County Federation.

Dorman and Cooper Win

C. C. Cooper, incumbent candidate for the Grossmont Union High School Board of Trustees was elected over his opponent, Edw. M. Kinyon by a vote of 993 to 757.

Cooper, serving on the board from the El Cajon area, piled up an early lead over his opponent throughout the eastern end of the district, which the Lemon Grove vote of 357 for Kinyon to Cooper's vote of 32 could not overcome.

Local lack of interest in the election is responsible for the Lemon Grove candidate's defeat.

In the Lemon Grove Elementary School District election, Vorman J. Dorman was an easy winner over his opponent, Frank Schaubelt, by a vote of 313 to 99.

Baptists Have Tub Offering

The First Baptist Church drug out their famous tub last Sunday since it was the day designated for a $3,000 offering for the building program.

With the count was made, it was found that the tub contained $4,641.44, which was $1,641.00 over the goal.

This is the biggest single day take in the history of the Baptists.

Keeping pace with the growth of this community, the church has made a phenomenal growth. Although a new addition for Sunday School and offices is being built, it will not be long before a larger sanctuary is needed.

Local Teacher to Wed in August

Nellie Beals, sixth grade teacher at the Lemon Grove School, recently became engaged to Miss Dorothy Sutter, and the couple plan an early August wedding. The announcement was made at a lawn party held recently at the prospective bridegroom's home.

Miss Sutter, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Sutter of Santa Monica, is a graduate of Santa Monica Junior College and is now employed in the engineering department of U. C. L. A. Mrs. Beals attended U. C. L. A. and U. S. C. where she received her Master of Arts Degree last year.

SCANNING THE WEEK'S NEWS
of Main Street and the WorldMac Urges Action Against China;
Farm Land Prices at Record Peak

MAN WITH A MISSION—At last, much to the relief of the average home-owner, the emotional thinking that manifested itself with the return of Gen. Douglas MacArthur to the United States, gave way to considerably sober reasoning as the general testified before Congress concerning the cause and results of his removal as commander in the Pacific.

Stripped of the superficial, the general's testimony revealed him a man with a burning mission—to bring the Korean conflict to a swift and successful conclusion. His objective was no different from that of the administration, except by the method it could be reached.

Unfortunately, at one point the general allowed himself to be maneuvered by the politicians into an all-out attack on the administration. He did not question, however, President Truman's authority to remove him, and he admitted he had expressed the opinion that the Chinese would not intervene in the conflict.

But he called again for air attacks on China proper, a naval blockade and use of Chinese Nationalist troops. At this point he said he did not believe this would draw Russia into the fight. He added that Russia was in no shape for an all-out war in Asia.

MacArthur's expressed opinion that there is no end in sight for the Korean conflict and that some policy should be worked out to end the war, appealed to the man on Main Street. The question now facing the nation is whether to follow the general's policy and risk all-out war in Asia, or continue with the more cautious one advocated by the administration.

THE OTHER VIEW—And after MacArthur presented his views of how to conduct the war in Korea, the one military man who in the eyes of the home-owner equals MacArthur in ability and popularity, Secretary of Defense Marshall, told the congressional committees that MacArthur's peace appeal to the enemy last March destroyed for the time being any chances of a Korean war settlement.

Marshall made it clear that in his opinion MacArthur's war plans would risk an all-out war with Russia, expose Europe to attack, and perhaps split the free world into two camps.

Step by step the 70-year-old Marshall disputed many of MacArthur's statements and warned against the general's proposal to step up the Korean war by bombing Red China and forcing a Communist surrender. It was MacArthur's outspoken call for this action—and the use of Chinese Nationalist troops—that led to his dismissal.

That is the other side of the picture. But the question remains—which plan for achieving peace will the nation follow. It is a question that must be settled in the mind of each individual American, not just in Congress.

LAND PRICES HIT NEW HIGH—Main Street economy is built around the land and what it can produce. And any fluctuation in land prices and its products is a good indication of the economic future of the home town.

Good farm property is in demand because people think prices are going higher. Land is a good hedge against rising prices. With the government indicating there will be a good market for every thing produced, good farming land is a good investment.

The agriculture department measures rural land values by a national index. This index uses the years 1912-14 as the base period. With 1912-14 as 100, the index in March stood at the record high of 193. This was 14 per cent above a year earlier, and 9 per cent higher than the previous peak registered in November of 1948.

MIDWEST FEEDERS HURT—As expected, the OPS regulations rolling back beef prices raised a howl of protest from cattlemen across the nation. But of all the industry, the midwest feeder was hardest hit by the new regulations.

According to authorities in the meat industry, 85 per cent, or seven million steers slaughtered under federal inspection last year, came to market over the feed lot route. But the feeder is now expected to cut down on operations for a time because he cannot buy cattle at a price that will pay to fatten them.

Fred Tomlin of Pleasant Plains, Ill., said in his case: "There is no reason for me to go out and pay 34 or 35 cents a pound for cattle with the prospect of selling them at 31 or 32 when fattened."

Communists Regroup to Attack
Beaten back in a slaughter that claimed as many as 75,000 casualties, Communists in Korea regrouped for another thrust to the south. UN commanders believed the fighting would stay in the area indicated in the above map.

THE BATTLE ISN'T OVER—The Communist spring offensive ended in the slaughter of approximately 75,000 Chinese and North Korean troops without any notable gains. But the battle isn't over. The Reds retreated into North Korea to regroup for the next phase which could mean another all-out attack at any point along the line.

It may well be that the second phase will begin at any moment. But UN commanders believe it, too, will end in slaughter unparalleled in history.

It was clear that UN troops remain in Korea because of superior air power, artillery and mobility. How long this superiority will remain on the UN side if the Chinese use their air forces in support of their troops, is questionable.

HOME TOWN BORROWING—The home owner who thought his town might get that much needed road, school, water system, drainage or sewage-construction project in the near future may be in for a big disappointment.

Charles E. Wilson, mobilization director, has asked states, cities, and counties to get clearances before borrowing in excess of $1,000,000. He made his request on the need to halt inflationary spending and to save defense-needed materials and man power.

The mobilization chief also asked that soldiers' bonus payments, war memorials, recreational and other postponable projects be put off for the duration of the defense emergency—at least where funds must be borrowed to pay for them.

THE JUNE GRADUATE

Employers Disregard Military Status

Even if this year's college graduates rates 1-A in the draft, the big corporations are hiring him, even for a few months' work, if he is disbarred employee material, and will save his job waiting for him when he returns from military service again. This is the prevailing trend reported by college placement officials in the annual employment survey made by Northwestern National Life Insurance Company. Smaller employers hiring only a few men, for specific vacancies, try to get draft-exempt personnel, the survey finds.

The big firms, however, feel the present cold war situation may last for many years and for that reason are hiring graduates regardless of possible military service within a short time.

INTERROGATE NORTH KOREAN . . . Members of U.N. forces interrogate a native of North Korea, who is eager to tell all he knows about the crafty enemy, who may have retreated many miles away or may be just over the ridge of the next hill ahead. It is better to know from this means than from a burst of machine gun fire or the explosive pattern of a mortar barrage.

STREAMLINER HITS TANK . . . An Erie passenger train from Chicago to New York plowed into an Ohio national guard Sherman tank recently, killing three of the tank's crew of five and injuring at least eight persons. Five crewmen and two passengers of the train were injured as was one member of the tank crew. The tank was returning from war maneuvers when it was struck by the fast streamliner near Barberon, Ohio.

OFFICIAL BUSINESS . . . Defense Secy. George Marshall kisses Miss Guri Lie after crowning her Queen Shenandoah XXIV at apple blossom festival in Winchester, Va. She is the daughter of Tryggie Lie, secretary general of the United Nations.

WHOLESALE PRODUCTION . . . Here's a view of the assembly line at Lockheed plant at Burbank, Calif., as workers strive to fill government's need for T-33 and T-2 trainer planes. These planes are in the 600-mph class, used by pilots to graduate from prop to jet propulsion. The trainer is a two-seat version of the F-80, world's first mass-produced jet. They are also used for navigation instruction, instrument and night flying training.

FASHION FLASH . . . Today's lace-conscious lady wears "Grandmother's lace shawl" for every occasion. Here is the three-quarter lace coat worn over contrasting black velvet pajamas for lounging in the home. Looks very comfortable.

READY TO YODEL . . . During inspection of Italian forces, Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower was presented with an Alpine hat by an Alpine unit. An officer of the force is trying one on Ike for size. He wore a yodeling lid like a veteran of the Alps.

Taft and MacArthur
Friends of Senator Taft report that the senator's visit with General MacArthur at the Waldorf Tower, New York, netted only two things—Taft's firm conviction that MacArthur meant what he said about keeping out of politics, and second, that the general could outlast the rather loquacious senator from Ohio.

Taft went to see MacArthur to find out discreetly whether the general had any political intentions; and second, if not, to lay some diplomatic groundwork so that the general might later get on the Taft bandwagon.

MacArthur was cordial, but politically negative. He gave Taft a shortened version of his congressional speech, quoting it in such verbiage detail that it almost seemed as if he had memorized it.

Taft's friends say that he did not tell the general that he, the senator, was a candidate for the presidency though he did hint that the Republicans were most grateful to MacArthur for what he had done and that they would certainly want him to be a leading defense planner if they won in 1952.

History Repeats

Herbert Hoover, who has been the chief confidante of General MacArthur during the present big debate, paradoxically was on the other end of a somewhat similar situation when he was President of the United States.

Hoover made the mistake of ordering the court-martial of Maj. Gen. Smedley D. Butler, a popular marine corps figure, after Butler had started a lecture that Bento Mussolini, then dictator of Italy, had run over a child with his car but failed to stop. General Butler's court-martial was ordered after Italian Ambassador Di Martino had protested officially.

But immediately there arose a tremendous outcry from the American press and public, and for years Hoover was the butt of possible more scathing criticism than Harry Truman.

The situation was somewhat comparable to the present MacArthur debate in that the admirals did not like General Butler any more than some of the leaders in the Pentagon love General MacArthur.

It was also significant that Hoover's popularity at that time had sunk to an extremely low ebb, comparable to that of Truman's today.

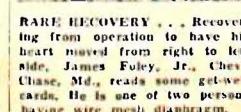

In the end, Hoover did what Harry Truman has not done. He abjectly surrendered and called on General Butler's court-martial.

Droughtproof Crops

Most important experiments in modern agriculture in years are being conducted at the government's research laboratory at Beltsville, Md.

Beltsville scientists, though cautious in their comment, indicate that they are on the scent of a sensational discovery that may make farm crops droughtproof.

Briefly, the scientists are developing a chemical spray that makes plants capable of holding moisture for prolonged periods.

FEEN-A-MINT FAMOUS CHEWY-GUM LAXATIVE

Here's the secret millions of folks have discovered about FEEN-A-MINT, the modern chewing-gum laxative. Yes, here is why FEEN-A-MINT's action is so wonderful. Doctors say that many other laxatives start their "loosening" action too soon—right in the stomach. FEEN-A-MINT acts directly. Large doses of such laxatives upset digestion. FEEN-A-MINT washes away nourishing food you need for health and energy. You feel better when you eat.

But FEEN-A-MINT, taken as recommended, works safely in the lower bowel where it removes only waste, not useful food. It gives you a quick, natural, well-being feeling. Use FEEN-A-MINT and feel your "peppy" energetic self! Get FEEN-A-MINT! No increase in price—still 25¢, 50¢ or only 10¢.

The Assembly previously passed a measure increasing the state's participation in the judges' salary, which automatically gives the Superior Court judges an increase to $16,750.

Assemblywoman Niehouse voted for the raise; Luckel and I cast a "no" vote.

Crime commission, an assembly-approved bill giving the State Crime Commission the power to subpoena witnesses, was sent to the Senate floor after adopting the following two amendments:

1. Prohibit crime commission hearings from being televised or broadcast.

2. Guarantee that witnesses would be entitled to counsel to advise them of their constitutional rights.

The amendments had the approval of Governor Earl Warren. Acting with swiftness, the Committee on Governmental Efficiency and Economy passed the bill without debate in less than two minutes time. (This is the same committee that killed the draw poker bill after a two hour debate. Several of the law enforcement officials who had fought for approval of the bill prohibiting draw poker were not given an opportunity to support the Crime Commission bill.)

Het Cargo modified bill has been introduced in the Assembly and referred to the Agricultural Committee and would apply to agricultural commodities. The bill would outlaw practices in a trade dispute in which employees of a firm not involved refused to handle farm products originating from the company affected by a strike.

CLEM WHITAKER, Jr.

With the season for political fighting in anticipation of the 1952 presidential election well-advanced, both Democrats and Republicans are taking turns rippling the hide off each other for "playing politics" with government.

Doubtless because the Democrats are in office, nationally, the GOP is finding the choicest ammunition.

Latest charge to thunder forth from the GOP heavy artillery is that the Truman Administration is attempting to use the Office of Price Stabilization "to build a huge patronage machine for the 1952 elections."

Democratic "lame ducks and party hacks have received price control jobs paying upwards of $10,000 a year." Guy Gabrielson, Republican National Chairman has declared. Making public a survey (GOP conducted) of appointments to 14 regional OPS offices, Gabrielson released the names of 71 Democrats allegedly serving as national and regional price control officials.

Broadening the scope of his revelation, Gabrielson referred to charges made by Democratic Senators from Mississippi that OPS jobs, along with other Federal patronage, were "sold." Gabrielson's reference was to Senator James O. Eastland (Dem., Miss.) who stated: "Our information is that places as county director for this agency (OPS) are being sold for a fixed fee of from $300 to $400 in each county."

"The (OPS) survey shows"

Gabrielson said, "that in the vast majority of instances, the top price control positions have been filled by Democrats recommended by Senators, Representatives, State and national Democratic leaders, and in one instance, by President Truman himself."

Gabrielson added: "The abysmal failure of the Truman Administration to halt inflation and bring down the cost of living reflects the caliber of the personnel of this critical defense agency. Instead of selecting officials on ability and merit, the Truman Administration has applied the test of Democratic party regularity and loyalty. This has placed price control under the guidance of political hacks and lame ducks."

Rounding out his charges, Gabrielson alluded to the cases of two OPS officials who recently resigned because of "the political aroma surrounding the agency." Gabrielson's reference was to former Georgia Governor M. E. Thompson and Vice Admiral John H. Hoover, retired. Governor Thompson, on resigning from OPS, was particularly vitriolic over the method of its operation.

The tip-off on whether or not the GOP will be able to spur a full-fledged investigation of OPS (in the nature of the Fullbright and Kefauver hearings) may well be determined by the Mississippi situation where a Senate Committee already is searching to find if evidence exists that jobs were "sold." If that proves to be the case, Republicans may have the best ammunition yet for 1952.

FROM THE NEWS CIRCUIT
JAMES DORAIIS

Last week, County doctors met in Los Angeles at the annual convention of the California Medical Association, and talked about such things as vitamin poisoning, spastic paralysis, child psychiatry and wonder drugs.

They also talked about organized medicine's continuing fight against attempts to place the profession under political domination. And—of special interest to the public—they talked of medicine's "positive accomplishments" in improved relations between doctor and patient.

In his inaugural address as President of the Association, Dr. H. Gordon MacLean, of Oakland, explained that because the practice of medicine is essentially a personal service, "the personal physician-patient relationship is a most important ingredient in medical care."

"The modern personal physician," Dr. MacLean declared, "is just the same way as the old-fashioned family doctor of the horse-and-buggy days, takes care of the whole man. The impersonal doctor could just as well be an employee of the Government—and in those countries where doctors have become civil servants, impersonal and inferior medical care for all the people has resulted."

Some of the recent, "grassroots" achievements of California physicians listed by Dr. MacLean included:

(1) The establishment by medical societies of emergency call systems "to guarantee that any one, resident or traveler, can obtain the services of a doctor at any hour, day or night or holiday, 365 days a year."

(2) The establishment of arbitration, or professional relations committees, to give thorough, confidential consideration to complaints of patients.

(3) The creation of bureaus of medical economics, which serve to assist patients in financial problems relating to medical care.

(4) The phenomenal growth of voluntary health insurance plans such as Blue Cross and California Physicians Service, and insurance indemnity plan.

(5) Community cooperation. Dr. MacLean cited the participation of county medical societies in mass chest X-ray surveys, and told of a situation in Fresno County, where members of the County Medical Society "formed a voluntary panel to give medical attention to children whose families are economically unable to engage a private physician and who are ineligible for County Hospital care."

(6) Establishment of medically sponsored, non-profit, community blood banks now serving as procurement and distribution centers for transfusion needs of the wounded in Korea.

After reviewing the great, dramatic advances that have been made in recent years in medical scientific progress, Dr. MacLean concluded that there is "gratification, too, to be found in the less dramatic but nonetheless very real progress being made every day in doctors' offices throughout California and the Nation toward a better relationship, a better understanding, between doctor and patient."

Teachers to be Interviewed

Superintendent Byron L. Netley and S. K. Solledder, director of education in the Lemon Grove School District, visited in Los Angeles on Wednesday of this week to interview prospective teachers for this district. Although State College here in San Diego will graduate a large class in the field of education, the local demand for teachers is greater than the supply. For this reason, administrators, desiring well-qualified instructors, are seeking good teachers in the Southern Section.

S. K. Solledder of the Lemon Grove School District attended a curriculum breakfast at Comanche Bowl on Monday morning with other county administrative representatives, city officials, and State College delegates. Dr. James Hunter, chairman, introduced several representatives who spoke on reporting pupil progress. Reports of tentative plans in this field were made by both the city schools and Lemon Grove.

Second Graders Visit Dairy

Mrs. Mason's second grade class visited the Knox Dairy last week as a part of their social studies unit, "The Dairy Farm." Experiences which the children most enjoyed were watching the cows come from the corral, seeing the cows being washed, watching the milking machine fill large jars many times with milk, observing how the milk goes directly into stainless steel pipes to the near-by cooling room, seeing the pasteurizer and homogenizer, watching the milk being bottled and capped by machines, and last, but not least, petting the baby calves. The second graders were in terested in knowing that milk is never touched by human hands from the cow to the capped bottle, and that automatic machinery does most of the work in a modern dairy. All present were impressed with the cleanliness and germ precaution.

Cookies and milk were served on the beautiful lawn, just before the departure by school bus. Mothers who helped supervise the children were Mrs. Greenlee, Mrs. Kievit, and Mrs. Hopkins.

Teachers Install Officers

At the May meeting of the Lemon Grove District Teachers' Association on Tuesday evening, Bob Sutton was installed as president of the organization for the coming term. Miss Luanne Bauman, a past president, officiated at the installation ceremonies. Other officers installed were Grace Burks, vice president; Ellen Berdel, recording secretary; Margaret L. Darrow, corresponding secretary; Clarence Allen, treasurer; Virginia Cornelius, parliamentarian.

At the business meeting, the new recommendations of the by-laws committee were read and approved, and elections were held to fill vacancies in long term committees. The club, by a majority vote, agreed on a unified dues plan for the district for the 1951-52 school year.

Annual reports were made by chairmen of the various groups who have worked for the association during the past term. Fitting tribute was paid Mrs. Hazel Schwalm, retiring president of the teachers' group, who has worked so diligently and with such great success this past year.

Refreshments were served to the members in the school cafeteria by the social committee, with Mrs. Hazel Jensen, chair-

High School News

Grossmont Union High School's Chapter of the California Cadet Corps reached the closing of a four day period that will long be remembered by many of the members.

Last Thursday, the boys sponsored an Armed Forces program which consisted of the display of several military floats and music provided by the band from the San Diego Naval Training Station. During the first and second lunch periods, guns and other military equipment were open for student inspection.

Monday, the final government drill and equipment inspection began. Company "C" won the company drill with leader Lieutenant Carl Murray. The squad drill was also won by Company "C" with Sergeant Harry Haws as leader.

First place in the individual drills went to Lieutenant Douglas Biddle. Sergeant Jack Diamond took second place in the event, and Sergeant Richard Maschner placed third.

Government officials rated the Grossmont Corps outstanding in all of the four divisions: appearance, equipment, drills, and conduct.

Many of the boys are now making preparations for two weeks at camp, which will be held this summer in San Luis Obispo.

Half of the amount collected during the drive remains in San Diego to aid in the recovery of polio patients in this county, and the other half has been forwarded to the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis to be held in reserve for epidemics and to be used for research and education.

Dall has been named chairman of the county executive committee of the chapter for the third consecutive year. Other newly appointed officers are Robert O. Sprague, vice chairman; William P. Mayer, treasurer, and Mrs. Saul Chenkin, secretary. New directors are Drs. W. W. Stadel,

Why Re-Bash It?

A pious housewife we know happens also to be a very thrifty one. She never wastes any food, but specializes in doing things with leftovers. One Sunday she baked a large ham, and for days after that her husband got it for dinner-minced, deviled, and with eggs. At the end of the week, as he started to dig into ham crouttes, his wife asked, "But dear, aren't you going to say grace before the meal?"

The husband looked up hungrily. "I will," he declared, "if you can name a single thing here that hasn't been blessed before."

Locke Considered Top Golfer

By GRANTLAND RICE

The Locke Swing

New York—A partly fellow by the name of Bobby Locke is on his way from South Africa to England, and from England to the United States. This is one of the longest invasions that sport has known.

Bobby Locke is a South African golfer that many rate as the greatest of them all. His supporters bar nobody.

He is headed for the Goodall Round Robin at Wykagyl in early June, and later to the U.S. Open in Detroit, two of the major tests that golf has to offer.

Locke is, beyond any argument, the greatest golfer the other side of the Atlantic has developed since the reign of Harry Vardon. Bobby is now British Open Champion.

His showing in our Goodall Round Robin has been a trifl better than sensational. This is a grinding test where every player from a picked field must meet every other player. The total result tells the story.

In three Round Robins, the records we have show that Locke has won two and finished second in the other start. He has won more money, taking a general average of his play on this side of the bunkered pond, than any golfer we can recall at the moment. In any event, he has won a healthy chunk, his full share of doubletons.

Unfortunately Ben Hogan won't be able to stand the long 36-hole march of the Round Robin test. But Hogan will be on hand at Oak Hill, for the Open, later on. For all that, Locke will have a rather savage test to meet.

He will have such competitors as Lloyd Mangrum, Sam Snead, Jim Ferrier, Ike Riegel, Jimmy Demaret, and others from the pick of the big field. Hogan is now Open champion and master of the Masters, two of the highest peaks golf knows today.

But the Round Robin is also a terrific test of both skill and stamina. What this country and golf in general needs is the arrival of a few new faces. The old guard is wearing out. Hogan, Nelson, Snead, Mangrum, Ferrier, etc., haven't too far to go. They are moving to the borders of the Forty-Year-Old country, where the laurel and the olive begin to fade.

Bobby Locke is no part of a kid, for that matter. Bobby has been around a long time. With this country and golf in general needs is the arrival of a few new faces. The old guard is wearing out. ## SEDIMENT IN WATER SUPPLY

Question: Can you tell me what's wrong with a pump or well that pumps fine white sand and after water has stood in pools, the side of the pail turns red like rust? We bought a little home and have a swamp near the pump. What can we do to correct this? My clothes show color from the rust or iron. Our pump is 90 feet deep and has iron pipe.

Answer: The white sand undoubtedly is in the water supply, but the rust is more probably either in the iron pipe or the pump. If you do not wish to take the pump to pieces to find out, I believe the simplest thing to do would be to have a rust removal unit installed. This may or may not take out the sand that seems to be in suspension in the water. Strictly speaking, a filter would have to be put in also to filter out the sand. For the names of these units inquire of the Architects Samples exhibit, 101 Park Avenue, New York 17.

Question: We are planning to decorate our basement. Would it be advisable to apply a coat of aluminum as a sealant before applying basement paint? What is the best paint to use for the basement?

Answer: For the masonry parts apply a cement base paint without any other base. It must go on a clean unfinished surface. Ordinary oil paint is not used on masonry walls which are apt to be damp. The cement paint is sold by dealers in masonry supplies and building materials; it comes as a powder to mix with water. For the wood parts use two coats enamel undercoater and a coat of enamel. Use only a rubber base floor paint for the cellar floors or asphalt tile.

MUSTY SMELL UNDER HOUSE
Question: Part of my basement isn't dry out. There is about two feet of clearance in this part, with practically no air circulation. There is a bad musty smell.

from this part of the basement, especially in damp weather, and I was wondering if there were anything I could use to eliminate this bad odor.

Answer: Try to provide more ventilation under the house, and in addition, if you can manage to crawl underneath, you could sprinkle the ground with chloride of lime. Cover your face with a gas mask while working to protect yourself from inhaling the stuff. If the space is too cramped for you to work in there, the only alternative would be to locate someone with an agricultural spraying machine.

I had a very poor appetite—in fact, food didn't agree with me. I had several sleepless nights . . . sometimes I would stay awake until one or two in the morning and then the next day I would feel tired and groggy all day long. You have no idea how terrible I felt. Now all this is gone . . . yes, now that I have been taking HADACOL, I feel wonderful. I get lots of good, sound sleep, have a fine appetite and just lots of energy. I can eat any kind of food now and it doesn't bother me a bit. I just can't begin to thank HADACOL."

SUMNER-BRANDAL NUPTIAL

Lovely in its simplicity was the marriage of Miss June Laurene Brandal, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gus Brandal, 2475 McKnight, and Mr. Larry Kelly, son of Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Summer, 1743 Elroy, in Lemon Grove Lutheran Church on Monday evening.

The Rev. W. LeRoy Elster read the rites at 7 o'clock in the presence of relatives of the young couple.

Large baskets of spring blossoms decorated the front of the sanctuary.

Preceding the ceremony, Mrs. Elster sang "Because" and at the close, "The Benediction Hymn," accompanied by Mrs. Robert Walker, who also played the nuptial marches.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was charming in a pale pink gabardine suit with white blouse, pink hat of orchid flowers and white accessories. She wore an orchid corsage.

As maid of honor, Miss Shirley Petrellina wore a coral knit suit with corsage and semi hat of yellow and brown cymbidium.

Best man was John Wick, Jr., cousin of the bride. The bride's mother wore a print dress with white coat and hat while the mother of the bridegroom wore a frock of tan satin with brown accessories.
